City of Ionia launches new Ionia Community Calendar and official Facebook page

IONIA, MI — The City of Ionia is announcing the launch of two tools to better connect residents, visitors, and organizations with what’s happening in our community: the Ionia Community Calendar and the official City of Ionia Facebook Page.

The Ionia Community Calendar serves as a hub for public events taking place in Ionia. From festivals and fundraisers, the calendar is designed to keep residents informed and engaged in community life. It will also assist event organizers in seeing what has already been scheduled by others to reduce conflicts. The Ionia Community Calendar is located on the city’s website under the Community tab on the Community Hub page.

To be included on the calendar, events must meet specific criteria, including being open to the public and organized by or benefiting nonprofit organizations or projects. Submissions are now being accepted through the City’s website at

In addition, the City of Ionia has officially launched its Facebook page to keep residents, visitors, and businesses connected to their local government. Residents are encouraged to follow the page for real-time updates, learn about opportunities for getting involved, and receive important city announcements.

The City invites all residents, local organizations, and businesses to utilize these tools.
